

I am extremely worried about Sinclair Broadcasting's ability to force their stations to preempt regular programming in order to show the anti-Kerry documentary. The power they have acquired through media consolidation is a threat to our freedom.

They're using the public airwaves, free of charge, to influence the public in favor of one candidate. Is this allowed? What else might they do if they get away with this behavior? Does the FCC have any authority to stop this type of propaganda from being forced on a trusting public? I thought we could trust broadcasting stations to be fair and to at least charge for the time they give to a special interest group. This is unprecedented and very threatening to the trust we hold in the FCC. Please take action so this will not happen again. Thank you.
